

THERE IS NO ALTERNATIVE! NATURAL TERRARIUMS

14 GOOD REASONS

To choose Exo Terra

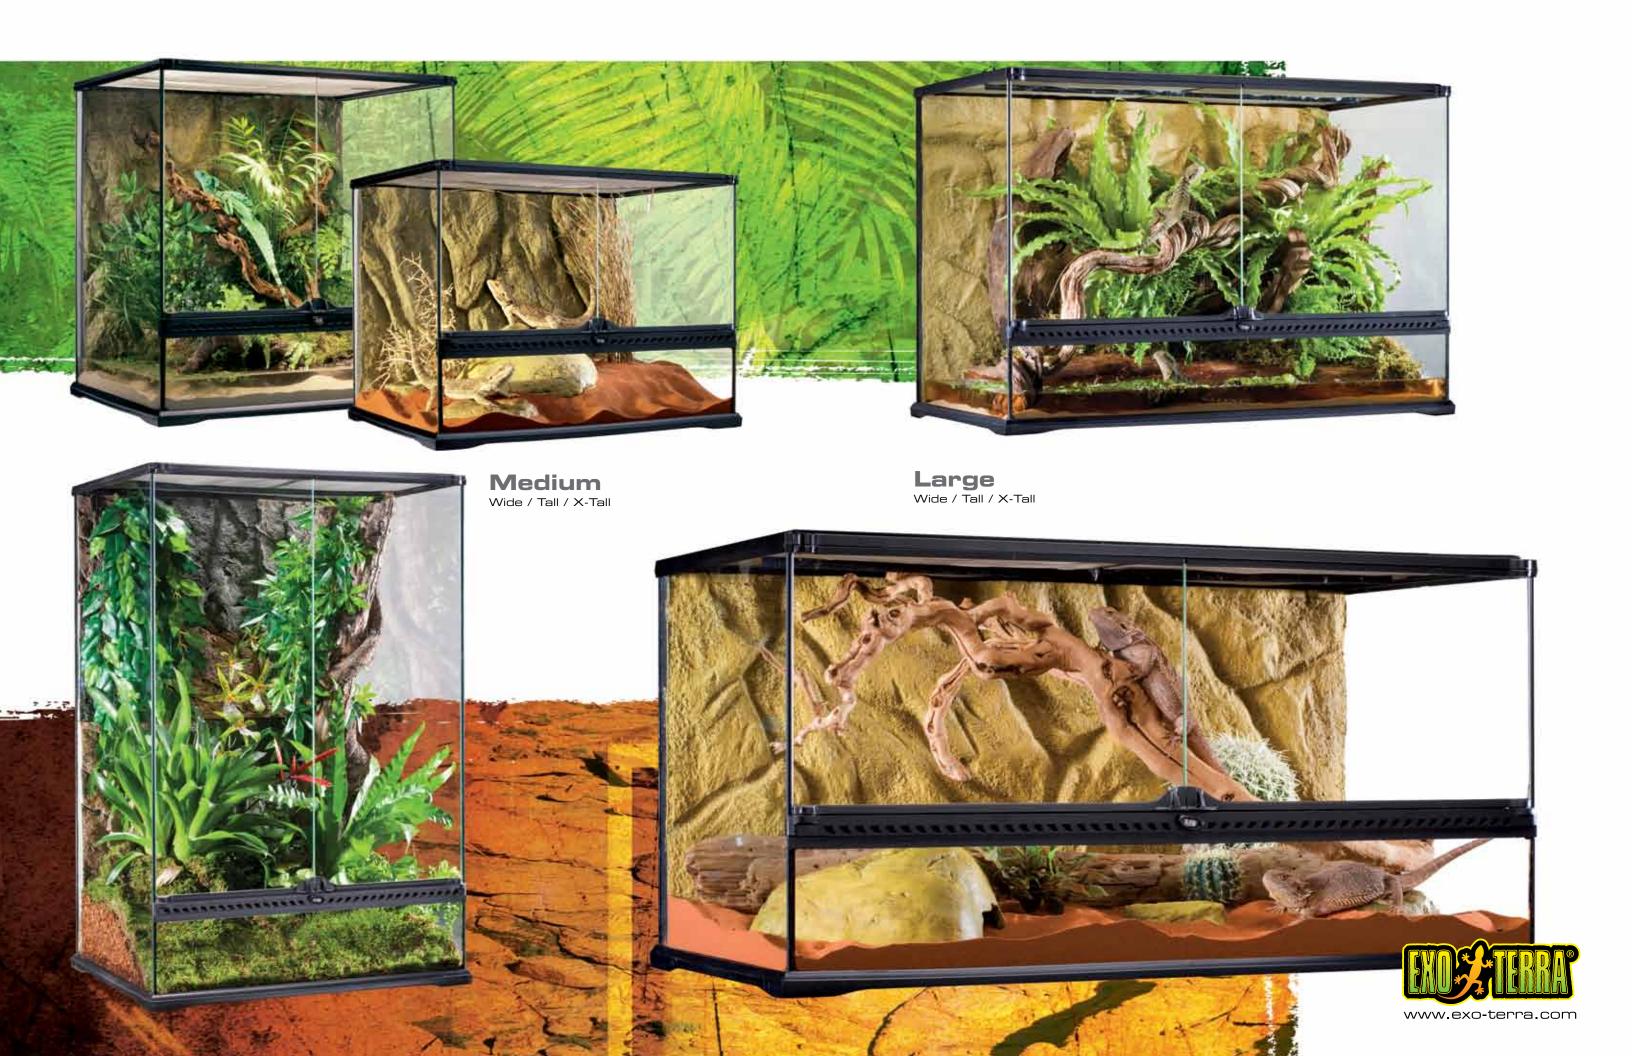

There are over 6000 species of reptiles and over 4000 species of amphibians, varying in size from about an inch to several feet. The terrarium is without doubt the most important aspect of successful reptile and amphibian keeping. Many species have different requirements, so a versatile and easily adaptable terrarium is essential. In order to meet the needs of the hobbyist and more importantly, the needs of reptiles and amphibians, Exo Terra developed a wide range of terrariums. All of these terrariums can be used for several applications and set-ups; from sterile housing to a state-of-the-art natural terrarium, from a desert terrarium to a tropical terrarium. The 3 new lower sizes are specially designed for desert set-ups, since most desert species are ground dwellers and do not move vertically. Although very similar in shape and size as the "aquarium-type" tanks, these new versions have all the great features of the typical Exo Terra terrarium.

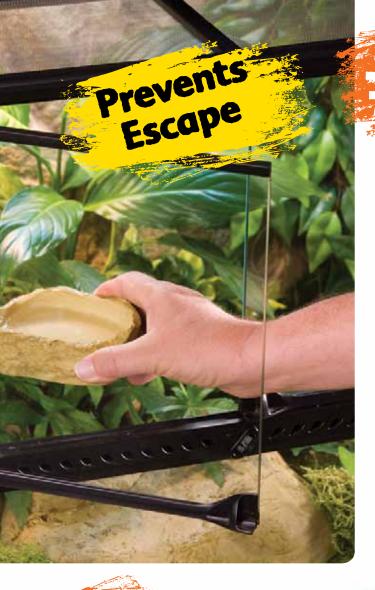

Unique Dual Ventilation System

The patented ventilation system provides optimal air exchange and keeps the front glass free of condensation for superior viewing (US PAT# 7,481,183).

Ventilation from the full screen top allows excessive heat to escape so cooler and warmer areas can be easily created. The frontal ventilation near the bottom is designed to ensure a healthy airflow entering the terrarium and prevent foggy windows. The dual ventilation system creates a natural upward flow of air to ensure optimal conditions. Stale air as a result of insufficient ventilation, like in "aquarium-type" tanks or terrariums with only top ventilation, can lead to upper-respiratory problems.

Dual Doors

The dual front opening doors allow easy access for maintenance, misting and feeding. During terrarium maintenance, one door can be kept closed at all times; reducing the risk of escape by a swift reptile or feeder insect, and better retains the heat and humidity inside at the same time. Pivoting doors are far superior to sliding doors, as sand and other debris can jam the sliding doors.

Removable Stainless Steel Cover

The full screen top allows UVB and infrared penetration, and is completely removable for easy access while decorating or cleaning. Durable locks at the sides secure the screen top to the terrarium frame. The top has built-in closable inlets on both sides to securely run wires and tubing inside the terrarium and keeps small reptiles and feeder insects inside the terrarium.

Optimal UVB penetration

Closable inlets for wires

Easy-twist screen cover lock

The extra high fixed front lower panel allows for deep layers of substrate, provides space for glass mounted decor like the Exo Terra Reptile Den or can be used to create a water feature as high as the ventilation strip. Every terrarium is tested for leaks.

Child Proof

A reliable specially designed lock prevents unwanted opening from children or pets and is an extra security measure to keep the animals in the terrarium.

Raised Bottom Frame

The bottom glass panel of the terrarium is raised to facilitate the mounting of a substrate heater or heat cable, and prevents heating accessory problems normal associated with standard "aquarium style" terrariums. It keeps the entire bottom panel well ventilated to ensure optimal hot and cold spots.

EXO TERRA

Enlarged Ground Surface The Exo Terra terrarium is deepe the "Aquarium-type" tank, result

The Exo Terra terrarium is deeper than the "Aquarium-type" tank, resulting in an extended ground surface. This gives the space needed for desert and ground dwelling reptiles and amphibians to thrive.

Accessories

An increasing number of accessories are available and especially designed for the Exo Terra Natural Terrarium. These accessories enable the hobbyist to build the perfect environment for their reptiles and amphibians.
